Essential Information for Adults new to Scouting
October 2013

scouts.org.uk/learnersresources

EDITOR'S NOTE

Although in some parts of the British Isles Scout Counties are known as Areas or Islands – and in one case Bailiwick – for ease of reading this publication simply refers to County/Counties. In Scotland there is no direct equivalent to County or Area. In Scotland, Scouting is organised into Districts and Regions, each with distinct responsibilities. Some 'County' functions are the responsibility of Scottish Regions, while others lie with Scottish Districts. The focus of responsibility is outlined in Scottish Variations from POR.

The equivalent role to County Training Manager in Scotland is the Assistant Regional Commissioner (Adult Training). For ease of reading this document refers to County Training Manager, except where there is a practical difference between the two roles, in which case this is indicated.

The term 'Training Manager' is used to refer to those in The Scout Association who are responsible for managing training provision, including: County Training Manager, Local Training Manager, Assistant Regional Commissioner (Adult Training) Scotland and Assistant District Commissioner (Adult Training) Scotland.

Again, for ease of reading, all adults taking part in the Training Scheme are referred to as learners.

PERSONAL LEARNING PLAN 95

ONGOING LEARNING 97

APPENDIX 1: OTHER USEFUL RESOURCES 98

Thank you for volunteering your time to Scouting. You have joined the most successful youth movement the world has ever seen, with a rich history and a bright future.

Although Scouting was formed over 100 years ago we are as relevant to the young people of the 21st century as we have been to those of the past. As adults in Scouting, whatever our role, we all have the responsibility of helping young people to grow and develop socially, spiritually, intellectually and physically. This unique role we have in young people's lives is both a challenging and rewarding task.

To support you as an adult in Scouting, The Scout Association provides training that builds upon your existing skills, knowledge and experience. The training you will receive is intended to give you additional skills and knowledge to ensure that you can carry out your role to the best of your ability. The Scout Association also seeks to offer development opportunities for adults and training is just one means by which personal development needs can be met.

I wish you well with your training and hope that you enjoy being part of the Scout Movement.

The Scout Information Centre is also available to help answer any questions you might have about Scouting. You can contact the Scout Information Centre by telephone on 0845 300 1818 or by email, info.centre@scouts.org.uk

2. INTRODUCTION

WELCOME TO THE ADULT'S PERSONAL FILE

We hope you will get as much out of Scouting as you put in. Scouting is not only about young people, but also about the development of adults within the Movement. It's also great fun so we hope you enjoy it.

WHAT IS THE AIM OF THIS FILE?

The aim of the Adult's Personal File is to introduce you to The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme and to provide you with some tools and information to help you with your training. It covers all appointments in Scouting and so some sections may be more relevant to your role than others. The file will provide you with an explanation of basic Scouting terminology such as the names of appointments, structures and the training planning process. It will also be your record of the progress that you make.

3. THE STRUCTURE OF SCOUTING

A. UNDERSTANDING SCOUTING'S STRUCTURE

Scouting is open to all young people aged between 6 and 25 and takes place in five sections:

- Beaver Scouts, 6–8 years old
- Cub Scouts, 8–10 1/2 years old
- Scouts, 10 1/2–14 years old
- Explorer Scouts, 14–18 years old
- Scout Network, 18–25 years old

These sections are part of the wider structure of Scouting.

UK Scouting is divided into a number of Scout Counties, each managed by a County Commissioner. Within a County there are a number of Districts, each managed by a District Commissioner, and within each District there are a number of Groups, each managed by a Group Scout Leader.

A Group is made up of the youngest sections (Beavers, Cubs and Scouts). The Group will probably have a number and a name, for example 1st Winton.

The District supports Explorer Scouts. Each District has a District Explorer Scout Commissioner (DESC) who looks after Explorer Scouts in your District.

The County supports the Scout Network. Each County has a County Scout Network Commissioner (CSNC) who looks after the Scout Networks in your County.

In some parts of the British Isles Scout Counties are known as Areas or Islands (and in one case a Bailiwick). Their function is the same and for ease of reading most publications refer only to Counties.

In Scotland the structure is slightly different and there is no direct equivalent to a County. Scouting in Scotland is organised into Scottish Regions, Districts and Groups. Some County functions are undertaken by Scottish Regions, whilst others lie with Scottish Districts. The District supports both Explorer Scouts and the Scout Network. Strategic direction is delivered at Regional level. Unless it is otherwise stated most references to Counties in publications also refer to Scottish Regions.

B. YOUR LINE MANAGER

To get started in your Scouting role, you will need to agree a role description with your line manager. For most people working with the sections your line manager will be your Group Scout Leader (GSL), DESC or CSNC as appropriate. For others it will usually be a District Commissioner or County Commissioner. Your line manager is responsible for agreeing with you your role description, and then for providing you with the support that you may need to fulfil your role.

Write your line manager's details below:

My line manager is: _____

Their appointment is: _____

Their telephone number is: _____

Their email address is: _____

4. YOUR APPOINTMENT

When you take on a role in Scouting, you will go through an appointment process to ensure that you understand the requirements for, and are suited to, your chosen role.

There are two stages of appointment: provisional and full. When the relevant checks have been made you will be issued with a provisional appointment and have five months to complete your Getting Started training.

A. WHAT IS ADULT TRAINING?

To ensure that young people experience good quality Scouting, The Scout Association requires each adult in Scouting to demonstrate a range of knowledge, skills and attitudes that are relevant to your Scouting role. Adult training is provided for adults to gain these.

B. GETTING STARTED

Getting Started is made up of three modules, which need to be completed before you can be fully appointed. Getting Started needs to be completed within five months of receiving your provisional appointment.

- Module 1, Essential Information
- Module 2, Personal Learning Plan
- Module 3 or 4, Tools for the Job.

These modules can be completed in any order, and are aimed at introducing you to your new role and giving you the basic information and skills needed to get started.

• Module 1, *Essential Information

This is the basic information that all adults in Scouting need to know. It briefly covers the fundamentals of Scouting, the key policies of The Scout Association and the support available to adults in Scouting. It is important that you receive this training as early as possible. A variety of delivery methods, including distance learning methods, are available.

Information on some of these issues is available in the factsheet The Key Policies of The Scout Association (FS500005), available from the Scout Information Centre or to download from www.scouts.org.uk/infocentre

• Module 2, *Personal Learning Plan

This module consists of creating a plan to meet the training requirements of your role, taking your existing knowledge and skills into account.

Although the parts of Getting Started can be completed in any order, you may find it helpful to complete the Personal Learning Plan as the first step, particularly if you are changing roles. This means that you will have a clear idea of the process from the outset, and you will be able to get advice from a Training Adviser at an early stage on how to go about completing your training.

- Modules 3 and 4, *Tools for the Job

There are two Tools for the Job modules. You will need to complete either the version for Section Leaders or for Managers depending on your role.

Module 3, Tools for the Job (Section Leaders)

This contains some basic information about the role and practical help for working within a section. The module covers the key features of the section and how to run suitable games and activities.

Module 4, Tools for the Job (Managers)

This contains some basic information on the key responsibilities of the role and some practical help for making a start. The module covers the principle duties of the role, the needs of adults, and policy and guidance mechanisms.

Once you have completed Getting Started you may wear the Gilwell woggle. Non-uniformed adults may wear the Getting Started pin.

If for some reason you are unable to complete Getting Started within the five month timescale, your line manager will review the situation with you. Your District or County Commissioner, together with the Appointments Advisory Committee, will then decide whether or not to extend your provisional appointment for another five months. A provisional appointment can only be extended once.

C. THE WOOD BADGE

The Wood Badge is the internationally recognised Scouting training insignia awarded to adults by Headquarters on completion of the course of training required for your role. The Wood Badge consists of two wooden beads threaded onto a leather thong which is worn with Scout uniform.

In UK Scouting training is tailored to an adult's appointment, and therefore not all adults are required to work towards a Wood Badge. There are a number of different routes to achieving the Wood Badge, based on an adult's appointment, and these are outlined in more detail later in this file. You are required to complete your Wood Badge within three years from your full appointment.

D. TRAINING ADVISERS AND ONGOING SUPPORT

Different Districts and Counties operate in different ways, but either before you begin Getting Started or soon after you begin, you will meet with a Training Adviser who will explain the scheme fully. They may even be doing this with you now!

A Training Adviser's role is to support you through your training. They will help you identify which of the modules you need to complete, and then decide with you whether you need to complete any training for them. From then on you will receive ongoing support from one or more Training Advisers, who will review your progress and ensure that you can put the learning from each module into practice. This process is called validation.

E. SUMMARY

Hopefully this short section has given you some idea of how you will start your training. The next section will help you look at the whole of the Adult Training Scheme in more detail.

5. AN OVERVIEW OF ADULT TRAINING

A. HOW DOES THE SCHEME WORK?

The range of skills The Scout Association expects of people in different roles are described in a number of modules, which together make up the Adult Training Scheme. There are 38 modules in total and different roles require a different selection of modules to be completed.

The modules that you have to do will be defined by your role description that you agreed with your line manager. Section 7 (page 22) has more information on the module requirements for different roles.

B. THE STAGES OF ADULT TRAINING

Adult training is made up of three stages:

1. Getting Started
2. The Wood Badge
3. Ongoing learning

1 Getting Started

This should be completed during the five months you hold your provisional appointment. You will complete up to three modules of Getting Started, according to your role. Every adult in Scouting who has unsupervised access to young people however, must complete Module 1, Essential Information.

2 The Wood Badge

Depending on your appointment you will need to complete a number of modules to ensure that you have all the relevant skills and knowledge for your role. As explained earlier, the modules you will complete are defined by your role description. The next chapter helps you work out what they are. At the end of this process, for most roles, you will be awarded a Wood Badge to mark your achievement. (More information on which roles require a Wood Badge can be found on pages 27-29)

3 Ongoing learning

Gaining your Wood Badge is not the end of the story. Every adult with a Wood Badge has to do a minimum of five hours ongoing learning each year. This is to ensure they continue to acquire new skills and keep up to date with new trends and policies.

C. LEARNING AND VALIDATION

The Adult Training Scheme is based around two key stages:

- Learning

This is when you have the opportunity to gain or improve the knowledge and skills which you need for your role.

- Validation

This is when your Training Adviser will check that you can apply what you have learnt to your role. Validation is essential for every module.

D. LEARNING METHODS

There are many methods of learning and you can choose the one that suits you best for each module. You may be able to go on a training course, but there are also many other options available. You might, for example, choose to read a book or get a friend to help you or teach you a skill. Alternatively, you may wish to use one of the methods provided by The Scout Association, such as e-learning or DVD.

E. RECOGNISING PRIOR LEARNING

The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme recognises prior learning. You may already have skills and knowledge that you have gained through your education, employment, life experiences or other voluntary roles which you can apply to Scouting. If you already have the skills and abilities needed for a module there is no need to do extra learning for that module. If you have some of the skills, or are unsure about some aspects, you may be able to complete learning for just those bits that you need.

You do, however, still need to demonstrate that you can use these skills in your Scouting role. This is shown through the process of validation. As part of the planning process for your training you will agree with a Training Adviser how you will validate each module.

F. THE YOUNG LEADERS' SCHEME

As part of its youth programme, The Scout Association operates a Young Leaders' Scheme. The scheme gives young people in the Explorer Scout Section (aged 14-18) the opportunity to act in a leadership role in one of the first three sections. As part of this scheme, Explorer Scouts are required to do some training to support them in their role.

If you have previously been a Young Leader you may have done training which covered subjects such as the Balanced Programme, child protection, first aid, practical skills, challenging behaviour and leadership skills, giving you the skills and knowledge that you needed to act as part of the leadership team as a Young Leader.

When putting together your Personal Learning Plan and thinking about your prior learning try to remember the things that you have done as a Young Leader, and how they could relate to your new adult role. It is likely that you already have a good level of knowledge of Scouting and how it works.

The completion of the Young Leaders' Scheme cannot be used as automatic validation for any module, but should be taken into consideration when agreeing the learning required. You will need to validate your modules in the same way as all other learners.

G. VALIDATION

Validation is the process where you show that you can put the learning that you have done for a module into practice in your role in Scouting. You will need to validate all of the modules required for your role, regardless of whether you have gained skills through learning or through previous experience.

There are a number of different validation methods which you and your Training Adviser will be able to choose from. The validation of your training should always be something that you are doing as part of your normal Scouting role, and will usually be about you doing something, then discussing it with your Training Adviser. The different aspects of your role, for example running meetings, planning programmes, leading and managing others, will show your abilities and knowledge.

Validation is essential for every module. Guidance on what you can do to validate each module is given on the module pages at the back of this file.

H. VALIDATION METHODS

There are a number of methods of validation. Examples of ten typical methods of validation are given here:

1. Demonstration: Where a Training Adviser will watch you to see if you can complete a particular task, for example running a game at a Cub Scout meeting.
2. Discussion with a Training Adviser: Where a Training Adviser will discuss a topic with you. Often this method will be used together with another method.
3. Workbook/worksheets: Where completing workbooks or worksheets demonstrates your understanding of the topic.
4. Questionnaire: Where you complete a questionnaire to show that you understand the topic.
5. Obtaining a qualification: This particularly applies to Module 10, First Aid.
6. Product of work: Where work you do as part of your day-to-day role in Scouting shows that you understand a topic, for example programmes or records that you have kept for your section over a period of time.
7. Project work: Where you undertake a project to put the things you learn into practice, for example running a camp or sleepover.
8. Written material: Where you collect written material that you have already produced, for example programmes planned for your section, together in a folder which shows your ability.
9. Witness statement: Where someone other than a Training Adviser watches you do something and signs a statement to say that they saw you.
10. Video: Where you complete a task, for example giving a presentation, and the video of the task is watched.

These are just some examples of validation methods. There are other methods, or variations of these ten, that you might want to use. These can be agreed between you and your Training Adviser.

I. EXTERNAL RECOGNITION

It is possible for the training that you do through The Scout Association to be recognised by an external organisation.

• Open College Network (OCN)

You are able to work towards a Level 2 Award in either Providing Voluntary Youth Services (for Section Leaders) or Managing Voluntary Youth Services (for Managers and Supporters) at the same time as completing your Wood Badge. The Open College Network Award can be beneficial if you wish to demonstrate to someone outside Scouting (such as an employer) the skills and knowledge that you have gained.

Each award is made up of a number of units which correspond to one or more of the Adult Training Scheme's modules. The learning required for the award is almost identical to the module material. The key differences are that to obtain the award you will have to show clearly that you can meet all the requirements of the module. The assessment and validation will be to a higher standard and you will have to collect and document your validation 'evidence' more fully.

If you think this is something you might like to do, you need to discuss it with a Training Adviser who will be able to provide you with more information. It is helpful to decide to work for the award during the construction of your Personal Learning Plan, although evidence of work can be backdated for up to two years.

• The Institute of Leadership and Management (ILM)

The Institute of Leadership and Management is a professional body for managers. They partner with individuals and employers across the world to improve leadership and management performance through learning and development. When you have gained your Wood Badge as a Section Leader, manager or supporter you are eligible to join the ILM at the grade of Associate Member, or Member if you have other management qualifications or experience (eg three years further experience in your Scouting role). As an Associate Member you may use the letters AMInstLM after your name.

Benefits include professional recognition, lifestyle discounts, Harvard Business School resources, access to ILM's regional evening events, a free legal helpline, and Edge – the magazine that you will receive nine times a year.

• The Institute of Training and Occupational Learning (ITOL)

ITOL is the professional body which recognises those specialising in training, development and occupational learning. The Scout Association's trainers may join and receive benefits such as post nominal letters, training and learning magazine, the International Journal of Training and Occupational Learning, an extensive resource library, UK glossary of training terms, substantial discounts on books and a members exclusive web space.

More information on all of these options is available from the Adult Support office on adult.support@scouts.org.uk or by calling 0845 300 1818.

• Your CV

There are many other ways in which you can show that Scouting is relevant to other areas of your life, and in particular employment. Skills which you have learnt through Scouting, such as teamwork, leadership or communication skills, are highly valued by employers.

The resource Get Ahead – Scouting and your career provides help and advice on how to include what you do through Scouting on your CV in a way that is relevant to potential employers. This can be found in member resources.

J. ONGOING LEARNING

All adults holding appointments which require a Wood Badge participate in ongoing learning once they have completed their Wood Badge. Ongoing learning must be at least five hours per year, calculated over the length of the appointment. Therefore if an adult went on a week-long residential course, for example, this could be counted as the ongoing learning for the whole period of the appointment.

You will be required to agree what ongoing learning you are going to do in the first year after achieving your Wood Badge with your Training Adviser before you can be awarded your Wood Badge. It then becomes your line manager's responsibility to monitor and agree your ongoing learning.

Ongoing learning can be any number of things. In essence any training, learning or development that you complete and can then use in your Scouting role is appropriate to count as ongoing learning. For example:

- The maintenance of a current adult first aid qualification/first response certificate
- A Beaver Scout Leader spending time with another leader learning how to use Programmes Online, then using it to plan their programme
- A District Commissioner attending a County recruitment workshop
- Any of the supplementary modules, for example Module 36, Special Needs or Module 29, Presenting.

Your Training Adviser will be able to give you more support and advice on things which may count as ongoing learning.

More information is included in the factsheet Ongoing Learning (FS500006).

6. CREATING YOUR PERSONAL LEARNING PLAN

A. PERSONAL LEARNING PLAN

Once you have agreed your role description with your line manager you need to create a plan for your own training called a Personal Learning Plan, a pro forma for which can be found at the back of this file.

The plan will detail not only those modules that you need to do, and some others you might like to do, but also how you will do the learning required for them. For most roles there are a number of modules to complete. This book contains all the details of the modules that you need.

You can either create your plan on your own using this workbook, or create it with a Training Adviser. You may wish to discuss the process of developing your plan, or meet with a Training Adviser before starting step one of the workbook, but this is not essential.

Whichever route you choose, you will have to agree your plan with a Training Adviser before you start carrying it out. A Training Adviser will help you split your plan into manageable parts. They will also meet with you regularly to review your progress.

B. WORKBOOK OVERVIEW

• Who is this workbook for?

This workbook is aimed at adults new to Scouting, as well as those who have changed roles. It is designed to get you thinking about the training you may need to complete for your role.

• Using the workbook

This workbook is a method of putting together your Personal Learning Plan, which is Module 2 of the Training Scheme, one of the requirements of Getting Started. It takes you through a simple four-stage process:

1. Identifying the modules relevant to your role.
2. Deciding if you can do what is required.
3. Meeting and agreeing your plan with your Training Adviser.
4. Do and review.

You may wish to complete all four steps with a Training Adviser or attempt steps one and/or two yourself before discussing them with a Training Adviser.

• What does the workbook cover?

This workbook provides you with some tools to help you start thinking about what training you require for your role in Scouting. Don't be put off by the size of this file – It covers the modules for every role, not just your own. There will be many you don't have to do.

You will find it useful to have read the information in this file on the training scheme before starting. If you are completely new to The Scout Association, you may find it helpful to discuss the scheme with a Training Adviser, or to ask another leader in your Group to explain it to you.

RESOURCES

Before you begin this module you will need:

- A copy of your role description.

If you haven't agreed a role description yet, speak with your line manager to agree one. Example role descriptions can be found at www.scouts.org.uk, and are available to order from the Information Centre. Scotland-specific role descriptions can be found at www.scouts-scotland.org.uk in the library section.

- How is this module validated?

This module is validated by creating a Personal Learning Plan and agreeing it with a Training Adviser.

C. CREATING YOUR PLAN

Step 1. Identifying the modules relevant to your role

What you need for step one:

- Your role description (as agreed with your line manager)
- Draft Planning Sheet (found in section 6)
- Module Matrix (found in section 7)
- Module requirements (found in section 7)

The draft planning sheet is for you to record your thoughts during steps one and two. It is for your own use and doesn't need to be seen by anyone else, although it may be useful at your first meeting with a Training Adviser.

- a. Using the module requirements and colour coded Module Matrix, identify which modules you are required to complete for your role. Use your role description to identify any extra modules that you feel are relevant to your role, or any that you would find interesting to do.
- b. Enter the titles of the modules that you have identified in the first column on your draft planning sheet.

Step 2. Deciding if you can do what is required

What you need for step two:

- Draft planning sheet from step one
- Module details (found in section 7)

For this step you need to decide if you can already meet the module requirements or whether you need any further learning and support to achieve them.

For each module that you have put on your draft planning sheet you need to complete this process:

- a. Look at the module detail sheet in this file and decide whether or not you need to do any further learning for that module.

To help you decide, the module detail gives an explanation of what the module is about and what validation is required. Each module also has some prompt questions for you to ask yourself. These should help you judge whether or not you have the right level of skill or knowledge.

- b. Fill in the correct columns

- If you think you can do what the module asks tick the 'validation required' column next to the module on your draft planning sheet.
- If you can't do what it asks then tick the 'learning required' column.
- If you're unsure just put a question mark in either column so you can discuss it later with your Training Adviser.

- c. If you have any other relevant experience or any questions that you would like to discuss with your Training Adviser put them in the 'notes/comments' column.

Remember to complete steps a, b and c for each module that you have put on your draft planning sheet.

Step 3. Meeting and agreeing your plan with a Training Adviser

What you need for step three:

- Draft planning sheet used in steps one and two
- This workbook
- Personal Learning Plan (found at the back of this file).

For this stage you will need to meet with your Training Adviser to finalise and agree your plan. This is also your opportunity to discuss any questions you have from steps one and two.

- a. Using your draft planning sheet, agree with your Training Adviser the modules that are relevant to your role. Enter these onto your Personal Learning Plan.
- b. For each of these modules, discuss how you could either:
 - acquire the skills for those things you cannot do, or
 - demonstrate in practice those things you can already do.

At the first meeting you may not be able to agree the learning method, validation, and timescale for every module. It is suggested that you plan between six and 12 months ahead, taking into account any opportunities for validation or learning that may arise in that period.

- c. For modules for which you need to complete some learning, agree with your Training Adviser when and how this learning will take place. Remember that there are a variety of methods that you may be able to use to complete your learning.
- d. For modules which require validation, agree with a Training Adviser how, when and by whom they will be validated. Bear in mind that it is not necessary for all of your modules to be validated by the same Training Adviser.

e. Enter the agreed actions for the next six to 12 months on your Personal Learning Plan.

The Personal Learning Plan is your formal record of completing the modules and so it will need to be kept safely. Any Training Advisers that are supporting you will also need a copy for their records.

Producing your Personal Learning Plan is a module requirement in itself so, when your plan is written up and agreed, get a Training Adviser to sign off Module 2, Personal Learning Plan.

Step 4. Do and Review

What you need for step four:

- Personal Learning Plan completed in step 3
 - Ongoing Learning form (found on page 97)
- a. While you are working on your modules, make sure that each one you complete is signed off on your Personal Learning Plan by the person who validates it.
 - b. At least once every six months review your progress with your Training Adviser and agree a plan for the next six months (you can use the process in step three to do this).
 - c. When all your agreed modules have been successfully validated you will need to agree your ongoing learning plan with your Training Adviser.
 - d. Once the ongoing learning for the first year has been agreed your record will be signed off by a Training Adviser and a Training Manager. If you have completed a Wood Badge, it will be awarded.

DRAFT PLANNING SHEET

This table will help you plan which modules you will complete, and how. Use it to help you complete steps one and two of putting together your Personal Learning Plan.

Module	Learning required	Validation required	Notes/comments
Insert the name of the module to be completed	Tick if you need to do some learning about this subject	Tick if you can have this module validated without further learning	Add any additional information that you feel is important, or questions you have to ask your Training Adviser

Tick this box if you would like to work towards an OCN Award.

7. MODULES

This chapter is made up of three main elements:

- The Module Matrix
- The module requirements for specific roles
- Module summaries.

A. MODULE MATRIX

The Module Matrix provides a summary of the 38 Modules that make up the Adult Training Scheme. The Matrix has two sections: the first summarises modules 1 to 4, which make up Getting Started. The second summarises modules 5 to 38, which you may complete a selection of depending on your role in Scouting. Delivery methods and a guide to each module's content are also provided.

The Module Matrix is colour coded to give you an indication of the types of roles likely to benefit from the training. The matrix is only a summary though and you should refer to the Minimum Module Requirements section that follows for more information on the training requirements for specific roles.

MODULE MATRIX

This is a summary of The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme. For further information on the training requirements for specific roles please refer to The Scout Association's Adult Training Scheme.

B. MINIMUM MODULE REQUIREMENTS

The minimum module requirements for the different roles in The Scout Association are shown below.

You are encouraged to look at other modules that may be relevant to your role but do not make up the minimum requirements for your appointment. These modules may be completed in addition to the minimum requirements, or as ongoing learning. For ease of reference, the modules are referred to in colour groups relating to the Module Matrix.

For appointments in Groups 1 and 2 a defined Wood Badge route is not available. However you may, if you choose to, create a Wood Badge route in agreement with your County Training Manager. If you do this it is important to make sure that all of the modules can be validated within your current role in Scouting.

GROUP 1

A Wood Badge route is not available for these appointments but Module 1, Essential Information, must be completed.

- Administrator (Group, District or County)
- Adventurous Activity Authorised Leader (District or County)

- Assistant Regional Commissioner (Development) Scotland
- Assistant Regional Commissioner (Communication) Scotland

*Scout Active Support roles

Those holding roles within a Scout Active Support Unit, including Scout Active Support Member, Scout Active Support Co-ordinator and Scout Active Support Manager should complete, as well as the training indicated above, those modules of the training scheme which are relevant to the nature of their role in the Unit which they belong to. This could include Module 3, Tools for the Job, Module 12, Providing a Balanced Programme, Module 17, Running Safe Activities, or any other relevant module(s). The service agreement for a Scout Active Support Unit will outline the support provided by the Unit, and will help to determine which training will be relevant for its members.

C. CHANGE OF ROLE

It is not unusual for an adult to change roles in Scouting. If you have completed your training under the current Adult Training Scheme and are changing roles, it may not be necessary for you to re-validate certain modules because you have completed them previously.

Each module on the following pages has a 'changes of role' box. A tick (✓) means that you will need to validate the module again and a cross (✗) means that you do not.

In some cases, the need to re-validate will depend on which role you are moving from and to.

Roles are split into three categories:

1. Section Leader (anyone working in a section).
2. Manager (Group Scout Leader, District Commissioner, County Commissioner, County Training Manager, District Explorer Scout Commissioner etc).
3. Supporter (Assistant District/County Commissioner).

The information is also summarised in the table below.

More information about change of roles, including what to do for those adults who have completed their training under one of the previous adult training schemes, can be found in Adult Training: Change of Role (FS330092).
